

Sinclair Broadcast Group and other media companies use the public airwaves free of charge and are thus obligated by law to serve the public interest.

I object to Sinclair broadcasting "Stolen Honor" or portions of any such obvious propaganda directly prior to an election. Their intent is clear and this is an example of large media companies using public airwaves to serve their own interests.

Having "news" produced by a few large media companies and even worse having it blatantly targeted to select groups of citizens (e.g., those in swing voter states) is an example of the ways that Big media can and will soffocate democracy to reach their own goals.

I urge you to return the airwaves to local programming and control by strengthening the media ownership and renewal rules and procedures in order to protect our precious demoncracy.

Thank you.
